Hi,

Please do not make 401k accounts a new type of annuity. You would be stealing money from the public, in the sense that you would be forcing their investments into a vehicle that is not inflation adjusted. That would allow government spending to inflate the currency in a way that has a more severe impact on the non-elite class within America that still depends on common things like 401k accounts. As an American citizen, I want the freedom to invest as I choose.

Thanks,
Michael
